Ms. Kathy Denise Dixon, AIA, NOMA, LEED AP, CDT, NCARB

Ms. Dixon is a licensed architect with more than 10 years of experience involving various building types and facilities. She has been involved in every stage of the construction process and has experience in educational, commercial, and government projects. During the past three years Ms. Dixon has worked on a number of educational facilities in the District of Columbia and Montgomery County, MD. She spent the prior four years working nationally on several Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) projects including Potomac TRACON and several ARTCC facilities. Prior to moving to government and institutional projects, she worked 4 years with McDonald's Corporation developing new restaurants, site planning, designing commercial kitchens, and creating child oriented play areas.

Currently Ms. Dixon is designing Faith-based institutions including churches, family life centers, and senior housing. Her background in urban planning, site planning, and community development gives her a broad sense of awareness for environmental and social concerns. Ms. Dixon received a Bachelor of Architecture Degree from Howard University in 1991 and a Masters of Arts in Urban Planning (Housing & Community Development) from the University of California at Los Angeles in 1993.

Ms. Dixon has been a member of NOMA for more than a decade and her accomplishments are immeasurable. Over the last two years, Ms. Dixon has not only served as the DCNOMA Secretary, but also the Northeast Region Vice President. Throughout her tenure in NOMA, Ms. Dixon has played a major role in local, regional, and national affairs, including conference planning, record keeping and community outreach. Ms. Dixon also holds membership within the African American Real Estate Professionals, the American Institute of Architects, and the United States Green Building Council.
